GOOD FRIDAY SERVICES

"The Seven Words from the Cross" will be presented in the three-hour Good Friday Service being sponsored by the Warren County Ministerial association at the First Methodist Church from 12:00 to 3:00 o'clock Friday afternoon.

12:00 -- The first word: "Father, Forgive Them, They Know Not What They Do", Reed J. Hurst; 12:30 -- The second word: "Today Thou Shalt Be With Me In Paradise", Paul J. Peterson; 12:55 -- The third word: "Woman, Behold Thy Son", "Behold Thy Mother", Francis E. Fehlman; 1:20 -- The fourth word: "My God, My God, Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me?", G. Forrest Sparks.

1:45 -- The fifth word: "I Thirst", Clarence W. Baldwin; 2:10 -- The sixth word: "It is Finished", Charles B. Kinney; 2:40 -- The seventh word: "Father, Into Thy Hands I Commend My Spirit", Vincent L. Rothwell.

Appropriate music will be provided at the service under the direction of George A. Johnson. Soloists will be Mrs. Elaine Ferrin, Mrs. Violet Borg, Mrs. Norma Heubach, F. Everett Borg, and choir members of the First Methodist Church.

The traditional Good Friday Service will be held at the Trinity Memorial Episcopal Church from 12:00 to 3:00 p. m. During this time three sermons will be given by The Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge and The Rev. Gregory A. E. Rowley.

"The Seven Words from the Cross" will be the theme used at services for members of St. Paul's Lutheran and the First Lutheran churches at the latter place of worship from 12:00 to 3:00 on Good Friday.

The seven services will be held at 12:15, Rev. Nore Gustafson, of St. Paul's Lutheran; 12:40, Rev. Theodore Benson, assistant at First Lutheran; 1:00, Sigmund Decker, ministerial student at Gettysburg College; 1:25, Rev. F. B. Haer, of First Lutheran; 1:45, John K. Timm, ministerial student at Thiel College; 2:10, Rev. Haer; and 2:35, Rev. Gustafson.

THE BIG SNOW in Warren on March 16th provided plenty of fun for the youngsters. This picture was taken behind the municipal building where the kids turned a huge pile of snow into a snow house.

NAMED THE OUTSTANDING young person of Warren County at the Jaycee Jr. Citizenship Award ceremonies Monday was Lee Thompson, of Youngsville. Pictured here are (l. to r.) Victor Clay, project chairman; Hilary Kay, Tidioute, third place winner; Kay Costley, Warren, second place winner; Thompson; and Earl Abel, Jaycee national director and guest speaker. The top winner received a $25 Savings Bond and a plaque, while the others were awarded an engraved pen.

A RECIPIENT of membership in Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic fraternity, is Ann Dalrymple. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Dalrymple, North Warren, she was graduated from Warren high school in the Class of 1952. Miss Dalrymple received the award at the University of Rochester.

"IT TAKES PEOPLE", was the theme used by Harry A. Stuhldreher, special assistant to the president of U. S. Steel Corporation of Pittsburgh, when he addressed the Industrial Management association at a dinner-meeting Monday evening. Pictured here at the head table are (l. to r.) Dan K. Walton, executive secretary; Donald Conaway, Jr., secretary; Mr. Stuhldreher, who is also a member of the famed four horsemen; Chris A. Pepke, president; and Ray N. Brink, treasurer.

JAYCEE TEAMWORK was responsible for the removal of a major part of the flood debris that lined the streets of Warren. Here members of the Warren and visiting Oil City chapters are seen in action on East st. Inclement weather delayed a mass clean-up until last Saturday and Sunday, when Jaycees finished up the job.

Television and Radio

By John Crosby

Some Fine Acting

"Joey" by Louis Peterson on Goodyear Playhouse the other night is a good illustration of both the strength and the weakness of a type of television drama that is becoming increasingly frequent. It is what I like to think of as inarticulate drama in which ordinary folk suffer their ordinary dreams in prose of such extraordinary ordinariness that it has a sort of reverse impact.

This particular drama was about a dishwasher so browbeaten by his father that he had come to accept the fact that he was a stupid no-account and that he always would be. That is, he accepted it until a girl -- as girls will -- blew into his life. The girl is a stripteaser who is resorting to dishwashing as a temporary respite from the police. She has rather more aggressive notions about life than the lad and, between bouts of dishwashing, succeeds in convincing him that feeding the pigeons -- his favorite occupation -- is a dim substitute for active enterprise. As the hour ends, he is about to embark on a career as a singer.

 This is one of those dramas that inch along from the commonplace to the obvious. Says the guy to the girl, as daring a line as the author permits himself: "You... you like me?" This is the order of the day: Boys of low station who discover that girls like boys or vice versa. Aspiration is cast at the lowest level of human desire and when anyone achieves anything at all it is a moment of triumph. It's also generally the end of the play.

Peterson writes with great honesty and integrity but there is only a limited emotional satisfaction to this kind of drama. The real appeal, I guess, is to the sense of superiority it arouses in the mass audience, any one of whom could hardly avoid the conclusion that he could handle life much more capably than these two.

This particular production was enlivened by superb performances by Kim Stanley as the stripteaser and an enormously promising newcomer named Anthony Perkins, the son of the late Osgood Perkins. This is, I think, the third TV play I've seen Perkins in and I have a suspicion that the movies will be beckoning him shortly. He's a man of Lincolnesque appearance with commanding eyes and a resilient voice. And he can act up a storm. I've seen him range from this sort of inarticulate drama to lyric and highly articulate Irish drama and he's very effective in both.

 As for Miss Stanley, she hardly needs an introduction. I'm one of the fatheaded critics who consider her one of the best actresses anywhere around. She can take a line like: "So it's you and the pigeons, huh?" and make it funny and touching and deeply revealing, all at once. She is -- I can think of no better word -- alive to such a degree that everything that touches her seems a matter of deep concern to the viewer.

Lucky You --

Just before I left for the coast Miss Stanley starred in another TV drama "Flight" on "Playwrights '56" and this too was a performance not easily forgotten. This was a tenuous, atmospheric piece about a girl in the Deep South who had been abandoned by her no-good fiance. The contrast between the two roles -- Miss Stanley dripping magnolia blossoms in the first and tough Broadwayese in the other -- was a very instructive essay in acting.

 Max Liebman's latest spectacular "Heaven Will Protect The Working Girl" was one of the most successful of his efforts for this year. Fortunately, he had enlisted the services of some of the most talented young working girls in and around the theater. My favorite sketch of the evening was one in which Nancy Walker supervised a group of girls giving a shower for a girl on the brink of wedlock. All the girls loathed the bride-to-be with remarkable vehemence and the sketch had a wonderfully feminine malice about it that you seldom see on the air.

There were other fetching young ladies around, too, notably Helen Gallagher, who contributed quite a lot of female electricity with a song and dance about breakfast in bed; Connie Russell, who belted "Ten Cents A Dance" over the left field wall; and Tammy Grimes a newcomer I've never seen before who was very funny in a sketch about a department store girl. There were some men about -- Bert Lahr and Art Linkletter -- but they were engulfed by the females.

Is lung cancer increasing?

The answer is Yes—and very rapidly, too. In the past 20 years, deaths from lung cancer in women have increased over 200% and in men over 600%. In 1954, 17% of all male cancer deaths were due to lung cancer.

You can help fight lung cancer—and all forms of cancer—in two ways. A thorough checkup at least once a year . . . and a check to the American Cancer Society.

Give to your Unit of the American Cancer Society or mail your gift to CANCER, c/o your town's Postmaster.

Hot Stove Faced With Clean-Up Problem

The Warren Hot Stove baseball leagues may have a difficult time getting started on schedule if an emergency clean-up job is not done on the fields. With so much work to be done because of the recent flood, the regular borough employees of the park department will be unable to put all fields in order before the season openers.

The Hot Stove ward chairmen are calling for volunteers in each ward to help correct this situation. Each will name his own day for the work and it is hoped that the response will be sufficiently good to assure a thorough job.

In case anyone isn't contacted and wants to help, the chairmen are: Ward 1, 2, and 3, Lex Larson; Ward 4, Nick Creola; Ward 5, Martin Smith and Fredolph Rydholm; Ward 6, Harry Wooster; Ward 7, Bob Johnson; Ward 8, Lou Cederquist; Ward 9, Ralph Barney, and Pleasant twp., Micky Long.

One date already has been named. Lex Larson and Martin Smith are asking volunteers to turn out April 7, from 9 to 10, on Beaty field.

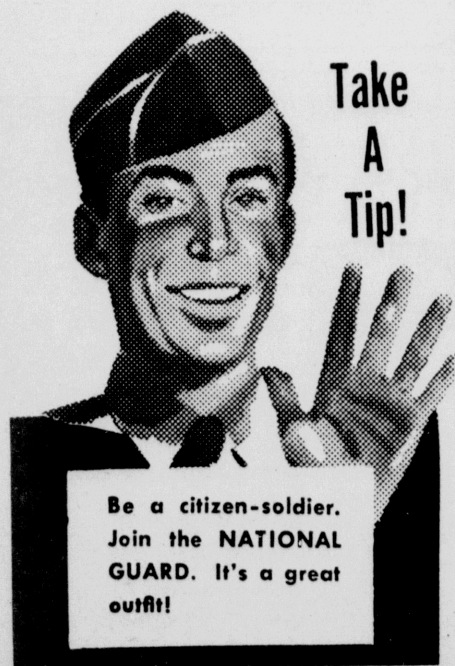

Registration days this year will be April 16 and 17. Places and hours will be announced later.

At a meeting held last evening, there was much discussion concerning equipment, and a source for bats which might be available at cost was revealed.

President John Carbon appointed a five-man arbitration committee, with Ralph Barney as chairman. He also named steering committees for each league.

The major rule change effected involves the Bantam league. The distance from the pitcher's box was changed from 35 feet to 37½ feet.

It was decided to have a Hot Stove Day at the end of the season, with two all-star teams from each league playing an exhibition game. There will be special consideration for the sponsors.

POLITICAL GRASS ROOTS RUMBLE AS APRIL 24 PRIMARY APPROACHES

By Lewis Crippen

The political pots are beginning to simmer as the testing time of all aspirants rapidly approaches -- the primary election when candidates are nominated and local party representatives are elected. Often overlooked by voters, the primary elections hold the key to the success or failure of the party in future endeavors as party members choose the men and women who will represent them in party decisions.

This year in Warren County the Republicans will elect one committeeman in each of the fifty precincts. The Democrats, on the other hand, will select one committeeman and one committeewoman in each of the voting subdivisions. Only a few contests within the G.O.P. ranks have been apparent from the petitions which have been filed with the Warren County Commissioners. The Democrats, however, have 130 seeking the 100 positions which will be filled on April 24.

REPUBLICAN BY-LAWS

The By-laws of the Warren County Republican Committee require that an organizational meeting be held within thirty days after the primary election. The retiring chairman calls the meeting through notifying the members by letter or postal card ten days before the proposed date and the meeting must be held exactly at 2 p. m. At any time, ten members may request in writing that a meeting be called and the chairman must adhere to their wishes. Twenty-six members are required for a quorum.

When vacancies exist on the committee, the chairman is authorized to fill the positions after consulting with others of the same party affiliations in the precinct in which the committeeman has resigned or died. In case of vacancies on the ticket of candidates, the committee decides on alternates at a meeting which has been given ten days notice. If ten days are not available to call a committee meeting before the election, the chairman fills the vacancies.

Campaign expenses may be assessed by the chairman to the candidates on the Republican ticket. The committee's secretary and treasurer are appointed by the chairman. The chairman is required to have ten printed handbills forwarded to each local committeeman fifteen days before the primary elections, advertising the election, which are to be posted in conspicuous places.

These by-laws may be amended by a two-thirds vote of the committee. The proposed amendments must be presented to one committee meeting and then voted upon at a subsequent meeting scheduled at least twenty days in the future.

DEMOCRATIC BY-LAWS

The Democratic chairman is required to call a meeting not before the second Monday and no later than the fifth Monday following the primary election at which the 100 committee members are elected. The notices must be in writing and five days' notice is required.

When vacancies exist on the committee, the chairman may fill the positions after asking recommendations from the other committeeman or committeewoman from the same precinct. It is possible to have two of the same sex if it is impossible to obtain both a man and woman willing to serve.

The committee shall be organized with a chairman and four vice chairmen (two men and two women). The Secretary and treasurer shall be appointed by the chairman. Any subsequent vacancies shall be filled by appointment by the chairman with the advice of the executive committee. The elected and appointed officers need not be members of the committee when elected but shall become ex-officio members by virtue of office.

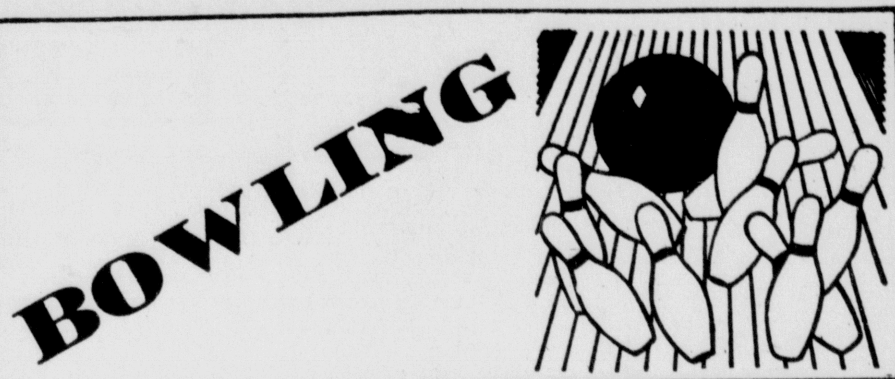

Meetings are required twice per year -- once prior to the primary election and once before the general election and other times as deemed necessary by the chairman. If a member can not be present he may send a duly authorized proxy who may be any Democrat of his precinct. One-fifth of the members of the county committee shall constitute a legal quorum.

Vacancies on the various election tickets of the county shall be filled by the executive committee after having received the recommendations of the county committee. Amendments may be made in the by-laws by a majority vote of the executive committee provided written notice of the proposed changes is mailed to all the members at least ten days prior to the meeting at which action is to be taken.

IMPORTANCE OF PRIMARY

Since both major parties allow the county committees to make such important and lasting decisions it is imperative that the very best committee members be elected at the primaries to be held on April 24. Don't neglect the primary elections because the records prove that their value is as great as the name implies.

This year a spirited contest is forecasted for the Democratic voters. The Republican eligibles are being approached more subtly by important leaders for control of the organization. Before you vote check with the various candidates and see how they feel about control of the party. Be sure to vote.

CHECK BROTHERS LEAD

The top spot in the Warren Bowling association annual tournament now is held by the Check Brothers team, with 3079. It also leads in the scratch division for which the Observer is providing a $20 prize. It has a scratch score of 2818.

The Dairy Queen was dropped to second with 3005. Next comes Means Lumber, 2963; Saron Lutheran, 2892; Youngsville EUB, 2876; Style Shop, 2854; Hanna Motors, 2852, and Red Top, 2851.

Busty Pintagro and Spinner Johnson still lead the doubles with 1249. L. McAllister and C. Bennett are second with 1230. Harold Still and Tony Fazio are third with 1221. Bill Simonsen and V. Erickson hit 1204, and Chuck Fox and Jerry Angove have 1200. Busty and Spinner have 1111 for the best scratch score.

D. Aberg tops the singles with 651. Then they read: H. Wyman, 644; L. Zandi, 641; R. Caldwell, 639; J. Hoden, 637; V. Albaugh, 630; R. Trzcinski, 620; J. Akeley, 617; P. Ransom, 616, and G. Hajnik, 612.

It is possible that the doubles and singles may not be completed on the Sheffield alleys. An announcement will be made concerning the new site before the action is resumed on the week end of the 8th.

BIG BOY

John Carbon almost had one this week. He tossed ten straight strikes in Tuesday's mixed league, at the Penn alleys, then was tapped on a Brooklyn hit. He ended up with 289. A high for the year in the Association.

The big total for the week was Jim Thomas' 247 and 641 in the City league. Harold Still hit 625 and Nummy Wooster, 609. Dr. Jim Giunta spilled a 255 game. The Warren County Dairy totaled 2862 for a new record.

The Industrial league wound up its second half with the New York Restaurant in the lead. It now will bowl Check Brothers in the roll-off, Tuesday, when the league will have its annual handicap singles tournament. Lou Chimenti led the scoring with 242 and 639. Other leaders were Pete Juliano, 634; Bob Check, 233 and 612; Wally Johnson, 600.

Carl Swanson led the Commercial with 628, Pete Juliano and John Randinelli had 614. Rudolphs spilled 2865 for a new high.

The Penn Junior league was led by Jim Henry's 478. The boys bowled in the American Junior Bowl Congress mail-o-matic tournament, with scores of 2759 for the Penn Restaurant and 2616 for the Warren Observer. Jim Henry led the tournament action with 504.

Paul Coppola topped the Junior Industrial with 588, and Bob Hedberg led the Merchants with 578.

MIXED ACTION

John Carbon's 289 helped him to a 610 for the best Tuesday Mixed league score. Marge Quackenbush hit 369 in the same league. Art Carlson rolled 548 and Betty Gray had 504 in the Friday league.

THE LADIES

Joan Shetty had 572 and Vi Sterling rolled 535 in the City league to lead the week's scoring. Janet Mellander posted two new records in Class C with 217 and 534. Rose Juliano led the Major with 512. Esther Clepper had a 224 game and tied Joan Shetty at 509 in this circuit.

Betty Beyer paced Peg's with 457, and Jeanine Michel was the Minor leader with 438.

Plans for the annual 200-club tournament are being made and this event probably will take place on the Penn alleys a week from Sunday evening. There will be two shifts, and already over two dozen girls are signed.

A ROUNDAABOUT TRIP to Alaska is in store for Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Hoff, who are pictured here. Mr. Hoff was recently appointed commercial manager of radio station KSEW in Sitka, Alaska, and his wife, Olive, director of women's programs.

Before flying to Sitka the National Board of Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., which sponsors the station, will bring the Hoff's to New York for five days, during which time they will record interviews with prominent people there in Mrs. Hoff's "Mental Health" radio series.

In Brief

FIVE ACCIDENTS were investigated by Warren borough police Thursday and Friday, the first occurring Thursday afternoon on Lexington ave. Approximately $150 damage was caused when Mrs. William Acklin, 308 Pennsylvania ave., E., went to turn into the Sylvania parking lot and was struck by Clarence Jenkins, Star Route, Warren. Both were proceeding east when Jenkins attempted a pass on the left side.

Later that afternoon Lois Laufberger, 332 Fifth ave., E., pulled out of Crescent st. and struck a car operated by Ronald L. Johnson, R. D. 1, Clarendon, who was going east on Pennsylvania ave. Damage amounted to $110.

At 8:10 p. m. Friday John R. Hedman, R. D. 1, Warren, pulled out of Anderson's parking lot onto Pennsylvania ave., E., and hit a car driven by Charles L. Pope, 115 Conewango ave. The latter was pulling around a stopped bus at the time. Minor damage was caused.

Liberty st. was the scene of another two-car mishap at 8:30 p. m. when Angeline Pellegrino, Sheffield, pulled out of Bimber's parking lot into the path of Roger Grettenberger, Tidioute, who was proceeding south on the street and hit the Sheffield vehicle. The Pellegrino car suffered $40 damage.

Cars driven by Marjorie Schumann, R. D. 1, Warren, and Joan E. Ullrich, 931 Stone ave., came together at the intersection of Liberty and Third streets at 9:05 p. m. Friday. Both were traveling in opposite directions when the Ullrich auto started a left turn to head south on Liberty.

DIRECTORS of the Warren General hospital board voted Thursday to contact government officials in regard to providing flood protection measures which might avert recurrence of the recent disaster here. The flood forced evacuation of patients from the hospital.

In a discussion of the issue the directors pointed out that a better flood warning system in the Allegheny Valley would have enabled the hospital to better prepare itself to withstand the rising waters. It was also noted that the swift current outside the hospital was hazardous and it was felt that a dyking system would cut down this current and make transportation to the hospital less dangerous.

It was disclosed at the meeting that Joseph Williamson, new hospital administrator, has been invited to sit on a panel discussion for the Middle Atlantic hospital assembly in Atlantic City on May 18. The panel will be "Planning for Various Types of Disaster."

The recent flood in Warren will be used as a theme for a radio and television script to be prepared by the radio and television department of the Federal Civil Defense administration.

The following dentists were appointed to the hospital staff by the board: Dr. Robert Gibb, Dr. Joseph Allen, Dr. Wallace Sedwick and Dr. John Huey.

ON TRAINING CRUISES with the U. S. Naval Reserve are seven Warren County men. Five of the men left Jamestown, N. Y., Sunday by charter plane for Bainbridge, Md., training station. They were Frederick E. Gaghan, Warren; William F. Batko, Pittsfield; Robert M. McCoy, Akeley, Arthur R. Weston, Tidioute; and Arnold L. Garriss, Youngsville, all seaman recruits. John R. Luther, Youngsville, depart for a cruise to Miami, Fla., on Saturday and John M. Abbott, North Warren, left the same time for a North Atlantic cruise.

A LITTERBUG POSTER contest is being conducted by the Warren Field and Stream club in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades of Warren area schools. The participants attend classes at Irvinedale, Stoneham, Starbrick, North Warren, Pleasant township and Warren borough schools.

Prizes for the three top winners of the contest, which closes April 10, are first, $25 War Bond; second, $10; and third, $5. Judges are James Hill, Warren; Mrs. Helena Iseman, North Warren; and Mrs. Archie Hunter, Irvinedale.

A display of the posters will be set up later by the Warren high school conservation class.

INDIVIDUAL PROJECTS of five local organizations will be combined and entered in Pennsylvania's second annual Community Development Contest set up by the state Chamber of Commerce. The group which will compete in the contest through compilation of a scrapbook at the end of the year, consists of the Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary clubs, Jaycees and Chamber of Commerce.

Warren will be entered among other Pennsylvania cities of its size for prizes totaling $15,000. First prize is $1500. The winning community must agree to spend the money for some community improvement.

VICTOR E. GUSTAFSON, JR., 3 Third ave., was among 181 candidates for the Certified Public Accountant certificate who passed the CPA examination which was held in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh on November 2, 3 and 4, 1955. He is employed in Warren by Swanson and Company.

"THE DEMOCRATS for Democratic Action" met at the Warren County Court House Monday evening, when candidates for committee man and committee woman from each precinct in the county were in attendance. Committees were elected and plans for the primary election were discussed. The next meeting of the group was scheduled for April 2 at Pittsfield.

WARREN COUNTY'S RED CROSS fund campaign, scheduled to close officially at the end of the week, is short of its $27,158 goal. According to Robert Dunham, campaign chairman, cash receipts total $19,815.61 and additional pledges to be paid later still leave the drive from one to two thousand dollars short.

It is pointed out that the Red Cross organization's needs this year are greater than ever. In Warren

PVT. LLOYD SWARTWOOD, 25, is the latest addition to the Warren barracks of the Pennsylvania State Police. A native of Buckport, Pa., he has been affiliated with the state police since August 1955 and comes to Warren after serving a short time at the Lawrence Park station. Swartwood is single and a veteran of four years service with the U. S. Navy during the Korean War. He fills the billet left vacant by Paul Smith, who was transferred to Lawrence Park.

alone, over $8,000 has been approved so far by the Red Cross for disaster relief. This money is supplied by the National Red Cross and does not have to be repaid, but naturally the local budget is higher and the essential work must be carried on.

Residents of Warren County who were missed in the campaign or who would like to increase their contribution, should send their donation to Red Cross headquarters, 404 Market st., Warren.

POSSIBLE INTEGRATION of social security into the Pennsylvania State Employees' Retirement system will be discussed by state employees at a meeting in Beaty auditorium on Sunday, April 8, at 2:30 p. m. The meeting is being sponsored by four chapters of the Independent association of Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board Employees. There will be no admission charge. Guest speaker for the occasion will be Paul Baker, of Philadelphia, manager of a state store in that city and head of a committee of the State Store Employees' association which has made a study of the retirement set-up.

All state employees and school teachers from 12 northwestern Pennsylvania counties have been invited to attend.

A WARNING has been sounded by the Warren State Police cautioning motorists that the use of "noisy" mufflers is now against the law and violators will be picked up. A "noisy" muffler can be classified as any muffler making a sound louder than the regulation piece of equipment.

DIVORCES WERE GRANTED in ten cases heard by the Warren County Court Tuesday and Wednesday. They were Betty Jane Steele vs. Edward W. Steele, Dorothy I. Brown vs. Harry H. Brown, Salbina J. Lougheny vs. James J. Lougheny, Loyal L. McAvoy vs. Barbara E. McAvoy, Gladys I. Babcock vs. Vernon R. Babcock, Clyde W. Camp vs. Margaret M. Camp, Nettie Kelly, vs. John M. Kelly, Mynfed L. Williams vs. Charlotte A. Williams, Edward R. Speaker vs. Alberta D. Speaker, Harry H. Thayer vs. Mary F. Thayer.

PRELIMINARY PLANS for the fall campaign of the Warren Community Chest, Inc., will be discussed at a board of directors meeting slated for 4:00 o'clock this afternoon. Marion Pettegrew, newly elected president, will preside over the session.

EXTEND AND SAVE By extending the subscription to the Observer immediately you will save at least a dollar. The price goes up that much on April 5. This is the last issue at current prices. The stand price will be a dime.

SLIPPERY PAVEMENTS were the cause of a one-car mishap that occurred early this morning two miles north of Warren on Route 62. The driver of the vehicle was John L. Demel, 623 Fourth ave., who escaped serious injury when his car went off the highway and rolled over an embankment.

FACED WITH THE CHARGE of stabbing a co-worker, Charles Fields, 25, of 306 Laurel st., was ordered to pay cost of prosecution and placed on probation for one year when he appeared in quarter sessions court at the Warren County Court House this week. His sentence of from six months to one year in jail was suspended.

Fields was arrested for aggravated assault and battery after stabbing Dewey Carter, 57, of Bradford, on the evening of March 18. The incident occurred when Carter attempted to halt a family argument. With a wound inflicted just below the heart, Carter drove himself to Warren General hospital where he was treated by a local physician. Police arrested the accused at his apartment a short time later.

A PUBLIC MEETING on flood protection for Warren is scheduled for Wednesday evening, April 4, at the Warren County Court House, as a result of the strong sentiment shown by local citizens since the March 8 flood disaster.

Speakers at the session will include Congressman Leon H. Gavin, of Oil City, and Col. H. E. Sprague, chief of the U. S. Army Engineers Corps, Pittsburgh. Judge Alexander C. Flick, Jr., of Warren will preside.

SHOOT A CARP

You now can shoot carp in Pennsylvania, if you use a bow and arrow. This does not include cross bows or bow gigs. A new law makes the method legal, and it is hoped that it not only will provide another form of sport but also will help control the carp.

This species of fish is not very popular with most fishermen. It is not good eating when prepared in the customary method by the average cook, and most people don't believe it is worth a special effort to make it taste better. It also isn't as exciting a fish to catch as some others.

However, with the bow and arrow fraternity expanding, this new target may prove popular even if they feed it to the cat, or use it to grow bigger cabbages.

One little tip. Aim well under your fish. How do we know? Well, now, that is a most embarrassing question. Just aim low, son, and never look an old poacher in the mouth.

CROWS ARE FUN

Many more sportsmen will some day learn that crow hunting with shotgun is exciting and that it provides a challenging, satisfying year-around type of shooting. And plenty of compensation, too, comes of outwitting the sly rascals. The competent wing shot may properly feel a bit righteous on days when he has reduced the population of these bird egg spoilers, the thieves that steal the young of small game and rob the farmer's corn field.

Planning and strategy, geared to the season and local conditions, are necessary if crow hunting trips are to pay off. A live or mounted great horned owl, or crow decoys of the live, metal silhouette or paper mache variety often cause this normally wary bird to throw caution to the winds and fly within range of the gunner. If the shooter is careful to remain concealed the crows will return to call and decoy despite the sound of shooting.

Wrong manipulation of the call may frighten the prudent birds away because their ears are finely tuned to unnatural sounds. Therefore, calling ability is important and it requires considerable practice before proficiency is gained. Knowledge of "crow talk" comes through study of the bird's habit. A few trips afield with accomplished callers will reduce the learning time and provide valuable tips for future guidance.

For best results, hunters should be completely hidden from sharp eyes above and remain as quiet as possible to prevent cautious old corvus (crow to you) from spotting them. When man, their age-old enemy, is seen, crows caw the warning signal and the hunt at that locality is finished for the day. The lack of foliage in winter, therefore, requires that blinds be built of red oak, evergreens or other natural concealment is not then present at desirable locations. However, this problem does not exist in late spring and early summer, when crows respond readily to a good call.

Night shooting at crow rookeries or roosts is an entirely different kind of hunting. It does not require calling and decoying as does most day shooting. Wrong methods or failure to locate a roost exactly for a particular night may result in failure. Careful observance of safety rules, agreed upon in advance, are a must when parties hunt crows in darkness.

When established flight lanes to and from roost sites have been charted, waiting at a high point for pass shooting in early morning or late afternoon can be so fast and furious as to keep sportsmen's guns hot.

Still, to most crow hunters, the greatest thrill comes of calling the cagy black rascals close and keeping them within shotgun range while fast, tricky wing shooting is enjoyed.

Watch The Small Farmer In 1956

By Doris Fleson

WASHINGTON -- If the Minnesota upset could be traced to a disgruntled labor force which had had its pay cut one-fourth to one-third, no one would be in any doubt why it happened.

It appears that the farmer these days is thinking also in terms of take-home pay. He has in effect taken a pay cut. Not only is he receiving less income, but the prices of what he buys continue to increase.

The Minnesota vote suggests that he thinks of the President and the Congress as his employer in the sense that they can and should do something about it. This may be very wrong of him, but no politician would dispute that such was his message at the polls last Tuesday. It was a clear call for fast and direct action.

The Republican National Committee has sent staff members to the farm belt to investigate what happened. The GOP learned the hard way in President Truman's surprise victory of 1948 that farmer unrest can be a political time bomb. It is important to Republicans to learn if it is again ticking away in the midst of general prosperity.

Truman picked up six farm states which more than compensated for his losses to the Dixiecrats. The whole area voted for President Eisenhower in 1952 but in all its elections since then Democrats have gained power -- in Congress, in state legislatures and in the courthouses.

WEEK END VISITORS of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Hoff were S/Sgt. Rowell Stroupe Hoff, U. S. Air Force, and members of his family. Sergeant Hoff, a son of the Warren couple, is pictured here with his wife, Antonio Maguerite, and their two sons, William Randall, 3, and Geoffrey Brewster, five months. The picture was taken at their home on the U. S. Air Base near Tokyo, Japan. The couple has departed for San Antonio, Texas, where Sgt. Hoff will be stationed for several months.

These post-1952 returns suggested that farmer difficulties were beginning to be reflected in the cities and towns dominated by agriculture. Minnesota is fresh evidence that this is true, for its urban voters went along with the Democratic sweep of the agricultural counties.

Governor Orville Freeman of Minnesota is privately confessing that "we didn't know our own strength" on the farm issue. The Democrat Farmer Labor organization did not at any point complain that their candidate, Adlai Stevenson, was being too moderate in his approach to the farmers; they sincerely expected him to prevail.

Their advice at this point to Democrats is that the Democratic nominee now has no choice but to take the simple Kefauver line on farm policy. The victorious Senator promised 100 per cent price supports for farmers with less than $7,000 a year income.

He has been widely tagged as "out-promising" Stevenson as indeed he did. But he tackled the trouble where it exists, which is among the individual and so-called marginal farmers. They produce the smallest percentage of the surpluses but they are the greatest in number and they feel the cost-price squeeze the most.

Congress has never made the individual farmer the focus of its farm program. The justification for doing so is that the family farm represents social values which should not be lost to the country.

Social planning is out of fashion in Eisenhower's Washington. It is obviously still appealing to any group of Americans that is falling behind in the general march to prosperity.

Things to Come

THE ART SPONSERS FUND COMMITTEE will hold an exhibition of paintings by a selected group of professional artists in the Tri-State area at the Wetmore Gallery in the Warren Public Library. A preview will be held on Monday, April 16, and the exhibition will be open to the public on Tuesday, April 17, through Saturday, April 28.

One oil painting and one water-color will be purchased from this exhibition to go toward a permanent collection of paintings to be kept in the Warren high school. To assure the continuation of this project each year, it is hoped that many of Warren's citizens will avail themselves of the opportunity to become patron members of the School Art Sponsors.

THE WARREN COUNTY HISTORICAL SOCIETY will hold its fifty-fourth annual meeting in the large court room of the Warren County Court House, on Wednesday, April 4, at 8 p. m. The business portion of the meeting will cover election of officers and a constitutional revision. Michael Siegel will be the speaker for the evening. His talk will be entitled "The Mysterious Mr. Rouse."

A PARENT-DAUGHTER BANQUET will be held by the Warren County Council F.H.A. on April 10 at 6:30 p. m. in the YWCA in Warren. At this banquet those who were awarded F.H.A. degrees will be recognized. Also the installation of county officers will take place. The Sugar Grove group is in charge of the program; Warren, the decorations; Sheffield, group singing; and Youngsville, entertainment.

TOP FLIGHT ENTERTAINMENT will be available to all area residents when an all-star benefit show headlined by Nat "King" Cole will be held at the Warner Theater in Erie on Wednesday, April 25. Also included will be June Christy, the Four Freshmen, and Ted Heath, and his London Palladium Concert Orchestra.

Ticket reservations may be made in advance with an all-expenses paid price of $6. This covers your seat and the round trip charter bus trip. The show is for the benefit of St. Boniface church.

Reservations may be made by calling Warren City Lines at 31 or Pete Pepke at 3625 after 5 p. m.

THE PITT PLAYERS will appear in Warren under the sponsorship of the Marine Girl Scout Troop 22. The group will present "Pygmalion" in Beaty auditorium on Monday, April 30, at 8 p. m. Adult tickets are $1.25 and student tickets are 75¢; they may be purchased from any troop member.

Lloyd Welden, Jr., technical director of the Pitt Players at the University of Pittsburgh, was in Warren on Tuesday to check on the staging of the production.

BASIC LEADERSHIP COURSES for Brownie and Intermediate Girl Scout leaders will begin on April 4 and continue for four consecutive Wednesdays. The courses will be held at the Warren County Dairy social rooms from 9:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. Please bring: a nose bag lunch, notebook, pencil, and leader's handbook. Coffee will be served.

Call the Girl Scout office and register. The phone number is 1895.

THE RIFLE CLUB will compete in the district match in Bradford on April 14. Members of the scholastic team from WHS are Perry Mahaffy, Ray Shaw, Bruce Hook, Jim Bonnell, and Kathy Downs.

WARREN-FOREST COUNCIL . . . Girl Scouts will hold a council meeting on Tuesday, April 10, at 1:30 p. m. Further details and more complete plans will be mailed out to council members.

Y-TEENS NOTES
The next high school Y-Teen group meeting will be held on Monday, April 9, at the YWCA. Plans are being made for the annual Turnabout Dance to be held at the "Y" on April 21.

Plans are also underway for the annual trip to Cleveland to see the opera on Wednesday, April 25. The opera will be "Faust", done in French.

Due to the discontinuing of the Beaty Junior high school activity period, the time of the seventh and eighth grade Y-Teen meetings has been changed from 2 p. m. to 3 p. m. at the YWCA. The days will remain the same.

THE DRAMA DEPARTMENT . . . of the Woman's Club will have as its guest speaker Mrs. Russell Meadows of the Warren Player's Club on Monday, April 2. Mrs. Meadows will speak on "Dialogue in Action." Hostess for the tea will be Mrs. J. H. Frantz.

THE PLEASANT P.T.A. will meet on Tuesday, April 3. The program will be a panel discussion on "The Child and His Future in Warren County."

SUNRISE SERVICES will again be held this year at Cook Forest State Park under the auspices of the Tri-County Men's Club on Easter Sunday morning. A choir of more than 200 voices from the schools of Clarion, Forest, and Jefferson counties has been or-

MRS. DUANE O. GREEN

Miss Sally Gail Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George William Nelson, 213 Biddle st., Warren, and Duane Ormal Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Green, 37 Locust st., Warren, were united in marriage in the First Presbyterian church, Warren, on Saturday, March 24, at 3:30 p. m.

Attendants were Mrs. Alice Moore, matron of honor, Miss Joan Kahle, bridesmaid, and Miss Geraldine Lanman, flower girl. Best man was Clarence Green, brother of the groom.

The bride was a 1954 graduate of Warren high school. The groom was graduated from Warren high school in 1951 and is presently employed at Pennsylvania Furnace and Iron.

ganized and other vocal and instrumental groups will make appearances at the service. The Sunrise Service will be inaugurated at 6:30 a. m. with an organ recital by Jerry Pander of New Castle. The service will get under way at 7.

GUEST SPEAKER at the April 4 meeting of the Warren County Emergency Radio Association will be Professor Gilbert L. Crossley, Atlantic Division Director for the American Radio Relay League. ARRL is a non-commercial association of radio amateurs and is the largest organized group of hams in the world with headquarters in West Hartford, Conn.

Announcement has also been made of the annual MARSfest for the State of Pennsylvania to be held in Warren on May 20. MARSfest is a convention of members of the Military Affiliate Radio System. This will bring to Warren members throughout the state as well as visitors from nearby states, dignitaries from headquarters, Second Army, and the Pentagon.

REHEARSALS have begun on the Warren high school Junior class play, "Tish" by Alice Chadwick, under the direction of Miss Kathryn Martin. The play will be presented in Warren high school auditorium on Thursday and Friday, April 26 and 27.

Included in the cast are Betty DeLong, Pat D'Angelo, Sandra Johnson, Mary Felton, Grace Conti, Tom McCune, Judy Moore, Fred Danielson, Carol Briggs, Dick Reynolds, Tom Fitzgerald, Bob Merenick, and Becky Norris.

THE BUCKTAIL CHAPTER . . . of the Pennsylvania Society of Professional Engineers will hold a dinner meeting on Tuesday, April 3, in the Cedar room of the Blue and White Restaurant.

The program will be Fred L. Plummer, director of engineering at Hammond Iron Works. He will give an illustrated lecture on "Field Erected Storage Vessels."

A special invitation is extended to registered engineers and engineers in training.

SPEECH CORRECTION . . . will be the topic discussed by Frank Johnson, speech therapist, at the Wednesday, April 4, meeting of the Catholic Daughters of America at 8 p. m. in St. Joseph's hall.

Plans for the Communion Breakfast on April 15 will be completed at this meeting.

PLANS FOR THE FUTURE were announced at the Tuesday meeting of the Chief Cornplanter Unit 135, American Legion Auxiliary, at the Legion Home. An invitation was received to the Presidents Luncheon in Pittsburgh on May 7. Mrs. J. G. Kiernan will represent the local unit at this meeting. This is an open invitation so that any member may attend. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Guy Albaugh before May 2; phone 1533-M.

WRONG IMPRESSION

Life Magazine last week had an article concerning the big time hustlers in the game of golf. It dealt with the lush southern areas and the rich courses where a man with a short conscience and a long drive can make big money. We believe that Life was making an effort to help a good sport, but we wonder if the impression it left with some was not a bit false.

We say this because we have heard the article quoted and the remarks were not complimentary to the game. As usual the stronger points were the most impressive, such as the caddy who said that he believed 110 per cent of the golfers cheat.

The big calcuttas, that obviously can be held only at the richest of courses, have not helped the game's reputation, but they are the exception. Where there is big money there will be those who will work at getting a slice of it. And among them will be the unprincipled.

Two of the most popular games today are golf and bowling. Both are scoring games, and it is the scoring that has much to do with bringing the customers back. They want to try again to see if they can do better. The ranks are filled with the average and worse players who are participating for the satisfaction they get from occasionally have a good day. And a good day is not one in which you cheated to make it look good. There is no satisfaction of accomplishment there.

You have your hustlers in all sports. One of the biggest hustling operations today is to be found in bowling where sweepstakes are held for those with averages under a specified figure. It is obvious that many of the winners are better than their average indicates.

It is easy to hold an average down even while competing in a fast league. The little money that is paid in a classic league for high season averages can't compare with that to be earned in the big sweeps which are found throughout the nation in the spring time.

Pulling an average down is easy, as any bowler will admit. Building it up is tough. A bowler with a team well in the lead of a weaker opponent can come up with enough open frames to provide a game that will drop the bottom out of this average. This done a few times during the season easily gets him in the 185 and under category.

We have known good bowlers who did nothing on many afternoons but hang around alleys looking for jackpot games with young newcomers. They spent most of their week ends bowling for nothing and perhaps hustling a bit of change. But most of them really weren't fooling anyone. The youngsters welcomed the stiff competition because they felt it sharpened their game and taught them to bowl under pressure.

Even the fishermen and hunters have their fast boys and girls. You will find pot hunters shooting birds out of the trees, and there are fishermen with empty creels who are not above guddling a large beauty out from under the overhanging bank if he can save his reputation as a top angler.

But in all fields they are not the ones who make the sport, and the average participant is out there for his own satisfaction. He enjoys very little of it if his scoring results or his day's bag is based on illegal tactics.

And so with golf you will find the average course is not loaded with big money, and most of the players are seriously obeying the rules as they know them. We believe it is unfortunate that they don't know them better.

We see golfers cutting the grass around their ball in the rough with preliminary swings of their club. Few realize they are committing a violation. We see bowlers violating the good manners of the game by ignoring the man to their right, or by standing near the ball rack while an opponent is attempting to bowl.

Every golf club and course has its members who are inclined to manipulate the lie of their ball, but they are not kidding anyone. They are well known to most companions. We remember one gentleman who never could see the markings on his ball if it were in the rough. He always had to pick it up for an examination before playing it. No one is inclined to worsen the lie once he obtains permission to pick it up.

But we have noted that few of the ones who have such unethical tricks ever win a golf championship. You can't learn to hit the tough ones by eliminating them. When the chips are down they lack the shots.

The average golfer is proud enough to want a low handicap. As one golfer once said to us, "I'd rather have a low handicap and get knocked off the first match of the tournament than have a high one so that I can play in a weaker flight."

Most golfers are out there because they like the sunshine, the fresh air, good companions, and the occasional

TV

WANT A TV JOB?

A search for TV announcing talent in this area will be started soon by KDKA. Not only will such information be available for future use by this station, but there will be an opening in a very few days when Hank Stohl resigns to devote full time to his Knish and Nickelodeon programs. If you have radio, television, or allied fields experience, write KDKA-TV, Pittsburgh, Pa. * * *

A FIRST FOR PITT

The first independent television station to televise a complete local opera will be the claim of Pittsburgh's KDKA when it does just that with Madame Butterfly, April 5, from 8:15 to 11:00. Two Met singers, Licia Albanese and Giulio Gari, will be in the leading roles of the production which will be telecast from the stage of the Syria Mosque.

The Pittsburgh Opera Society is losing $47,000 a year and Harold C. Lund, general manager of KDKA-TV and a Westinghouse vice president, has offered to help popularize opera in the Pittsburgh area by doing the show on TV. * * *

CHANGES

Program changes on WBen Saturday evening include Two for the Money from 9 to 9:30, and So Young, So Bad, starring Paul Henreid and Catherine McLeod, in the 11:30 Playhouse drama concerning delinquency in a girl's school. * * *

QUICK FLICKS

AND WHAT BECAME of Hopalong Cassidy? . . . AN APRIL FOOL twist will be apparent in Alfred Hitchcock's Sunday evening presentation, with John Qualen in the lead . . . THE INTRICATE IMAGE of Dylan Thomas will be seen on Camera Three this week, with dramatization of segments of the Welsh poet's life.

EASTER MORNING at ten you can see the highly-acclaimed Easter program which is a parallel of the story of Mary on her third journey to calvary. It is told in modern verse against an 1850 background, and is named A Journey of a Night. Channel 4 to most of you.

COOPERATION is helping to make the Johnstown telethon possible. KD KA is lending its complete remote facilities for use by WJAC for the cerebral palsy benefit, which will last from 11:30, April 7, to 2 p. m., April 8.

GOOD FRIDAY services will be seen on WBen, starting at 2:30, and replacing Nora Drake and Aunt Jenny.

MOVE OVER PHIL. Those Emmy awards won by Phil Silvers mean nothing when the circus comes to town. You will see the highlights of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus, Tuesday evening at 7:30, and lasting an hour. Rob Cummings will take you there with his family. Canceled for the night are Phil Silvers and Screen Directors Playhouse. * * *

KATHARINE CORNELL will make her television debut in a color spectacular on Monday, April 2, 8:00 to 9:30 P.M. on WGR-TV. The spectacular "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" is a television adaptation of her greatest stage success. Robert W. Sarnoff, President of National Broadcasting Company said, "We consider it a signal honor for NBC that Miss Cornell, unquestionably one of the world's greatest actresses, has selected our network for her first 'live' television appearance. We are equally pleased that Guthrie McClintock, Miss Cornell's husband and director, will produce and stage the production." Meanwhile Miss Cornell said that she was "excited about the whole idea of acting in 'live' TV. It will be more like the performances I am accustomed to, as compared to film. Then, too, I love the play and the part. I believe that 'The Barretts' has an eternal love story and that its sentiment is fresh and meaningful for all ages in all time."

Miss Cornell first produced and starred in Rudolf Besier's "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" at the Empire Theatre in New York in February, 1931. "Barretts" was a highlight of a 17,000 mile U.S. tour which the star made during the 1934-35 season. Miss Cornell brought the play back to Broadway for a limited engagement in February, 1935. In 1944, she took the play overseas for a memorable tour of U.S. Army installations in Italy, France, and Holland, playing 140 performances before returning stateside. In March, 1945, Miss Cornell revived the work at the Ethel Barrymore Theatre for the last time. * * *

ACCORDING to the latest report we have received, CBS will have a brand new look on Saturday nights next season. It appears that the only show that will be carried over from this season will be Jackie Gleason's show which probably will continue in its present time slot 8:00-8:30 P.M. on WBen-TV. A new hour long series "Perry Mason" which is an adventure series based on Erle Stanley Gardner's stories, will probably be seen from 10:00-11:00 P.M. It is also believed that the Herb Shriner hour long variety show will be seen from 9:00-10:00 P.M. on that night. * * *

DOTS AND DASHES . . . —Ricky Nelson, Rusty Hamer, Lee Aaker and Sherry Jackson, who all appear in ABS shows, seen on WGR-TV, in weekly television series, have been named for Gold Star Awards in the fourth annual Milky Way poll to select the Nation's outstanding juvenile performers during 1955. Ricky Nelson, who appears as himself in "The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet" is the only youngster to have won the award four times in a row. The other three stars are being cited for the second time. Rusty Hamer and Sherry Jackson play the son and daughter of Danny Thomas in the "Make Room For Daddy" series and Lee Aaker appears each week in "The Adventures of Rin Tin Tin".

It has now been definitely established that Arthur Godfrey will undergo another operation on his hip. A suite has been reserved for him at Harkness in the fall. . . . Now that Ted Collins is well again Kate Smith will appear on "Toast Of The Town" on April 15.

Luxury HOME HEATING AT LOW COST

UNMISTAKABLY, it's true luxury heating with a famous Pennsylvania Air Conditioning Gas Furnace—even, constant temperature without effort... new cleanliness... years of efficient, trouble-free furnace operation. The cost of this investment in more comfortable, gracious living? A surprisingly low figure that becomes still less, when you take into account the true dollar-value of a happier, healthier home. Ask us for complete details.

Area SportsSURE-SHOT CHAMPIONS

A one-point margin provided the Warren Ramblers with the intermediate division title of the Jamestown Sure-Shot cage tourney Friday night. The Warren juniors did the job by nosing out Johnson's Keystone of Frewsburg, 46-45.

Berdine and Lindquist paved the way by scoring 12 and 11 markers respectively for the winners.

SHEFFIELD PLAYERS NAMED

Two players of the championship Sheffield cage team were recently named to the 10th annual 1956 Allegheny Mountain league all-star team. They are Rod Vashaw and Don Labesky. Other members selected for the first team were Norb Wood, Johnsonburg; Bill Gaffey and Joe Mertel, of St. Marys; Jim Allegretto and Bob Hoare, of Ridgway.

STYLE SHOP ELIMINATED

Dunkirk's 97-70 verdict against the Warren Style Shop eliminated the local lads' chances in the 9th annual Jamestown YMCA open basketball tournament. Ed Rickerson tallied 17 points to lead the Stylers in the quarter-final bout.

STATE CHAMPS DECIDED

The state PIAA basketball finals took place over the past week end with Farrell grabbing the Class A crown, Fountain Hill the "B" title and Jenkintown the Class C championship.

The Steelers reached the finals by stopping District 10's Meadville, 83-60, in the Western regional and went on to stop Palmerton, 57-45, before 8,000 fans at Philadelphia Saturday night.

The west's domination of the Class B title was broken with Fountain Hill high's 66-53 triumph over East Pittsburgh. Jenkintown's crown came with a 79-66 decision against Williamsburg.

MOST VALUABLE. Ed "Wink" Rickerson, of the champion Warren Rambler five, was named the "most valuable player" in the intermediate division of the Jamestown Sure-Shot tournament.

OPEN AGAINST WARREN

Youngsville high thinclads open an eight-meet season against Warren trackmen at the Beaty oval Friday, April 13. The remainder of the schedule goes: April 18 - Corry and Warren; April 24 - Northern Area; April 28 - Smethport and Ridgway; May 2 - Smethport; May 8 - Oil City; May 12 - Upper Allegheny Valley league at Youngsville; May 15 - Kane.

PONY LEAGUE APPEARANCE

The long sought appearance of a PONY league baseball game in Warren may become a reality this summer. From all indications a regular league game between Olean and the Jamestown Falcons will be played here.

PENN-YORK LEAGUE NEWS

Signs of an eight-team Penn-York baseball league are in sight, as a result of a meeting held in Jamestown on Tuesday evening. At this time six teams -- including the Warren Elks club -- signed up and the possibilities of Corry and Bradford nines entering the circuit look good at the present time.

Don Gheres, who will pilot the Elks club this year, and Diz Hines, business manager, represented the local team at the meeting.

Entered in the loop besides the Elks are Marlin-Rockwell, Moose and Art Metal, all Jamestown nines; the Ludlow Wildcats, and Green Brothers Lumber of Ashville.

While prospects look good for Warren to be represented by a formidable aggregation, a clearer picture will be available following a meeting of potential players in the coming week.

KICK THESE AROUND

Here are a series of rule changes announced this week by the National Basketball committee's rule-changing body for colleges and high schools.

Two defensive players will assume positions under the basket, on each side when a free throw is attempted.

No player may place his foot in the free-throw lane when a free throw is attempted until the ball hits the rim or backboard. Previously a player could leap into the lane if his foot did not touch the floor.

The free-throw line will be 2 inches wide rather than one inch. Restriction on the jump ball so that no player may put his foot in the circle until the ball is tapped.

No offensive player may reach above the basket to guide an attempted shot into the basket. Previously, no defensive player could reach above or touch the rim on an attempted shot. The last rule does not apply to the "dunk shot," it is pointed out, where a player leaps above the basket and drops the ball through.

Due to the inability of some schools to provide for a 12-foot wide free-throw lane, this proposed change probably will not take effect until the 1957-58 season.

SHEFFIELD IN TOURNEY

A Sheffield aggregation playing under the name of White Lunch and built around the latest edition of high school performers, is favored to win the Jamestown Boys Club senior Sure-Shot tournament that opened this week.

With 17 teams entered, the Sheffield lads will first see action at 7 o'clock tonight against Carnahan-Shearer.

The survivors of the first round action will battle it out on April 2 and 3 in doubleheaders for the April 4 semi-finals. The two finalists go for the title in an 8 o'clock contest April 5.

SAVING THE TAXPAYERS' MONEY. This 1000-gal. tank is being buried back of the Warren County courthouse for easy access by the four county cars. Now the county will be able to save a little over six cents per gallon on the entire gas consumption. The arrangements were made with Emblem Oil Company by Blain M. Mead, Lewis L. Crippen, and L. L. Johnson, Warren County Commissioners.

A "PINE WOOD DERBY" provided plenty of excitement at Cub Pack 47's meeting at Home Street school Thursday evening when the young scouts featured miniature racers in competition. The winners were Chuckie Quiggle, Jeff Kay, Chip Young, Wayne Nasman, Roy Christensen and David Rudolph in that order. Runners-up in the event were Larry Biehls, David Guiffre, John Backstrom, Doug Wendelboe, Robert Anderson and Don Clepper.

AN ESTIMATED $7000 loss was suffered at the Walter Sweeney farm just outside of Sugar Grove Tuesday morning, by a barn fire of undetermined origin. The fire was discovered by three brothers, Glenn, Bob and Clair Conklin, of Steamburg, N. Y., who also assisted in leading over 20 head of cattle to safety. One calf was lost in the blaze. The barn, as evidenced in this picture, burned to the ground despite efforts of the Sugar Grove Volunteer fire department.

ASIDES

FRIGHTENING are pictures taken from within the Warren General hospital during the recent flood. Those who took the "calculated risk" of building a hospital in such a situation and those who have blocked flood control should see these. Taken in color they tell the sickening story.

One shows the water pressing against a window, with pressure beginning to send it through. Another pictures a truck, loaded with patients and stalled in the current. It was isolated there for nearly an hour until another truck latched on and pulled it out. A shot taken at that point reveals the water at truck floor level.

The pictures are in color or we would have published them before this.

FOR THE RECORD we shoveled snow again last Saturday, about five inches of it. On the level areas it is melting away in safe fashion, but back there in the woodlands we know the supply still must be heavy. May the rains be light, or not at all, until the sun has done an overdue job.

SAVE THE AIRPORT?

We understand there are those who would keep the Warren airport even if a major one is built north of here to serve Warren, Jamestown, and Corry. It would be well if these people would have a close look at the current situation.

Einer Johnson, the present port manager, intends to leave this summer. He has had enough of Warren's lethargy toward flying. You can't set a table with dreams.

If Warren wants to preserve its airport, and until a new one comes along it probably does, it will need an appropriation to help finance the cost of keeping it open. We cannot expect anyone to be a martyr for the cause of air transportation to our benefit as a community.

Those in the Warren Chamber of Commerce who are vitally interested in obtaining a new port might find it to our advantage to help support the present landing field. An appropriation of four or five thousand dollars would help maintain the field and give a manager a fighting chance.

At the very least we should make the hangar apartment available to someone who will serve planes with gasoline and oil, and be alert to emergency situations. Perhaps we could compensate them with free use of the apartment and a small stipend.

In this case the hangar could be used for borough equipment storage and the shop might be handy for equipment servicing. We might avoid building that quonset garage on the East Side, or perhaps we could erect it to augment the hangar and service all equipment at this location.

Many angles, but the main point is that we now are faced with another airport decision, due to the present manager's decision to leave.

BRING YOUR FRIEND, says the army in its latest effort to encourage enlistments. Under this set-up you can enlist with your buddy and you will be together during the eight weeks of basic.

THREE BIG NAMES included on Chautauqua programs for this summer will be Norman Cousins, Rise Stevens, and Jerome Hines. Cousins is the editor of Saturday Review and will give a series of lectures the week of August 13.

Mr. Cousins has enlarged the coverage of Saturday Review from a purely literary weekly to a journal concerned with our national culture. He has traveled widely and is the author of Who Speaks For Men, voted the most important non-fiction title in the spring of 1953.

Miss Stevens will be heard August 25 and Mr. Hines, July 3, in a pair of special musical events. Miss Stevens, a Met performer and a popular tv singer, was the first opera singer to portray so wide a variety of roles.

ADD NORTHERN AREA to the growing list of school districts plagued with increased costs. Its 1956 budget is reported as $130,000 higher than last year's, totaling about $486,000.

THE LEADER in the filter cigarette field is Winston. Next comes Viceroy. L and M, which has been third, is going to box its brand in hopes of staying ahead of Marlboro, which is fourth and is hoping to pass Viceroy by using a flip-top box. Fifth is Old Gold with a new filter. Watch the advertising battle settle down to a scrap between these leaders.

AREA ROADS in Warren county will have $37,775 spent on them for surface treatment this spring and summer, says the State Highway Department. It will cover 30.26 miles in this county.

That is the lowest in the district, except for little Forest county where $17,865 will be spent. The amount to be spent in every other county in District 1 tops the $50,000 mark, and in Crawford it will be $79,280, and Mercer will get $94,330. Venango will receive $56,480 for resurfacing. McKean will enjoy $75,972.

ONE MILLION dollars is wanted for CARE relief to refugees in a campaign which is the first major effort of this organization's tenth anniversary year. Each package bears the name and address of the donor. You also can specify the country to which the package is to go. We know of people who have developed a correspondence with people they have helped in this way.

Donations are being handled by the Railway Express and can be sent to CARE Refugee Campaign, Railway Express Agency, 998 Pennsylvania ave. W., Warren, Pa. For details you can call 298. R. F. Gilmore is the local chairman.

ROOMS FOR RENT may be the announcement heard from the direction of the Warren county commissioners one of these days. The current trio has been considering the discontinuance of the annex as a location for public offices. The space might be rented out. It could be very convenient for professional people.

There is sufficient room in the basement and on the third floor of the main building to house all officials and have space to spare. An elevator could be installed to serve the several floors.

WE GIVE UP. This week we received a list of eight questions that are being submitted by the Warren Chamber of Commerce concerning the Kinzua dam. These have been answered in a long line of articles, in reports of investigating committees, by private engineers employed by Warren, and by many others.

We await the arrival of the army engineer. Let him do it. If it means no more than it has in the past, Warren will be right back where it was and nothing will happen. What can a poor editor do?

THESE QUESTIONS will be answered, we hope, next Wednesday, when a public meeting will be held in the Warren county court house at eight o'clock. Army Engineer Col. H. E. Sprague and Congressman Leon H. Gavin will be the speakers, and questions will be invited from the floor.

INTERCITY RELAYS to bring better reproduction to remote communities may be more prevalent if a three-commissioner committee comes up with an answer that will allow tv stations to build their own. As it is today the stations must use established common carriers, usually owned by the American Telephone and Telegraph, or an affiliate.

The prices are too high, say the stations. They can build their own and save money. AT&T has offered an off-the-air pickup relay at fifty per cent less, but the stations still are asking for the right to build their own.

They now can erect their relays if there is no common carrier available. This is too rare to be of much help. Not only that, if a common carrier moves in, the station loses its investment and must use the carrier.

This is one of those steps that can revolutionize tv.

SIXTY MILLION dollars will be spent by sponsors on radio and tv baseball programs this season. This tops last year by five million.

Not on tv will be Pittsburgh, Milwaukee, and Kansas City. Cleveland and Philadelphia will expand their tv schedules. WERE will feed Cleveland games to forty stations in Ohio, New York, and Pennsylvania.

With tv scanners denied Pittsburgh games, the fans will be dependent on Atlantic Refining and Plymouth dealers, each of whom will sponsor one-third of the radio broadcasts to a score of stations.

MOST TALKED ABOUT. You can have your Emmy awards. We will take the winners of the weekly poll which sounds out the public to learn what program is the most talked about as the result of last week's performance. It says eighteen per cent of the people were talking about Richard III, and twelve per cent were discussing Lawrence Welk. Medic was on the tongues of ten per cent.

The $64,000 Question now is sixth, but was in first place from September through December.

The most talked of movie is Picnic. Then come I'll Cry Tomorrow, Man With the Golden Arm, Guys and Dolls, and Benny Goodman Story.

NINE-INCH PORTABLE tv set is due out this summer. Made by G. E., it will weigh only thirteen pounds, and may retail for less than $100. The 14-inch set already has proved the demand by chalking up 250,000 sales this past year.

Minnesota Primary Warning To GOP

By Thomas L. Stokes

WASHINGTON -- There was one thing a bit puzzling to us as we reporters followed the caravans of Senator Estes Kefauver and Adlai Stevenson up and down and across Minnesota during the recent gruelling primary campaign.

This was why, through all sorts of weather, the people would flock into the small towns, many from far away, to fill the high school auditoriums, the gymnasiums, the town halls, to listen to a couple of Democrats. They listened closely, as if seeking for something.

It was all cleared up this week with the snowstorm of ballots in the Democratic primary, twice as many as were cast in the Republican primary.

Apparently the folks had found what they were looking for, which was a way to register a kick about something. That something may include more things than we now suspect, but one thing it includes above all others. Of that we repeatedly got a clue during the campaign.

It came in the vengeful, thunderous boom of applause when Senator Kefauver, for example, would intone in his dead-pan manner:

"I'm very sorry to say it, but Mr. Benson never seems to learn anything."

Or when he would attack Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson in other words, as he did. The clue came, too, in the disrespectful guffaws that rose from audiences when Stevenson would toss the Secretary off with a pitchforked wisecrack.

Otherwise, the crowds were generally most orderly, restrained and circumspect, and listened in silence.

Their antagonism toward Secretary Benson, the trouble they would take to get to a meeting to hear the two Democrats criticize the Republican farm program and thus get a chance to let off steam, the pains they took to get to the polls -- all this demonstrated their slow burn about the drop in farm income.

This farm issue is now the No. 1 political problem for Republicans in the agricultural belt and may be the No. 1 political fact in the November election in that region.

Reduction in farm income hits the towns -- and eventually the cities -- as well as farmers. So there were others besides farmers who expressed their protest last Tuesday. It was a factor among town and city folks in town and city precincts.

We are sure that many Republicans voted in the Democratic primary. Some did it in a familiar political maneuver -- that is, to try to embarrass and weaken the Democrats.

The tactic was to vote for Senator Kefauver to strike a blow, first, at Stevenson, whom many Republicans had regarded as the strongest candidate the Democrats could put up in November and, second, against the Democratic - Farmer Labor organization that now controls the state and was supporting Stevenson. But undoubtedly many Republicans were voting in the Democratic primary in protest on the farm issue.

There were about the same number of votes cast in the Democratic primary alone this week as were cast in both Republican and Democratic primaries in 1952.

Four years ago there were 131,000 votes cast in the Democratic primary, as compared with 400,000 or more this week, and 294,000 in the 1952 Republican primary, as compared with around 200,000 in the recent primary.

Senator Kefauver generally is conceded to have got the bulk of farm votes cast in the Democratic primary because of his plainly stronger appeal to farmers.

This was attributed to several factors: That farmers could understand him better than Stevenson; that he made more specific promises, and bigger ones; that he constantly identified himself with farm legislation as a member of

BUYERS' CORNER

THEY CAN HAVE WATER

Farmers in some areas are obtaining water supplies similar to the service available in the cities. It is financed by the Farmers Home Administration through loans at 4 1/2 per cent, with 30 years to pay.

Such a system was installed near Lexington, Kentucky, at a cost of $242,000. It involves twenty-one miles of pipe and 150 farms.

To be eligible for such a loan, the non-profit farmer's association organized to obtain the money and install the system must assure the government that over half the water will be used by farmers.

It also is possible to obtain financing if the source of supply for the line is to be a nearby city water system. Information can be obtained through the Farmers Home Administration office, located in the Warren post office building, where Francis W. Artley is in charge.

One angle to this idea that causes us to give it so much attention is the constant necessity of reporting that farm property is burned because firemen are hampered by a lack of water. This could be good fire insurance.

NO VOLKSWAGON

There will be no Volkswagen plant built in the United States this year. We have been asked about this and seem to have too little space to provide answers to all the questions received.

The Volkswagen people were prepared to build a plant in New Jersey, but decided they could do better with plants spotted about the world in other countries.

The Wagon is giving all other makes a race for it in the world market. And the world market is the next one we must seek if we are to hold our own as a nation.

We find it fascinating that the Volkswagen success story comprises a strange combination of contradictory facts. One is that it lacks the incentive of private ownership, in that there is not a small group or an individual profiting greatly from its success. The incentive which we laud so greatly in this country is lacking.

The other fact is that the success is based on a policy which our car makers have forgotten. That is the policy of Henry Ford, who made his first success through the manufacture of an inexpensive car, with no frills, built in economy, and no style change from year to year, thus preserving the trade-in value. That is what Volkswagen is doing. It probably is the most economic car on the road today. It is an ugly looking little turtle, but it never changes, sells at a low price, and is very well made.

There is no comparable low priced car in this country today, unless it is the Nash Rambler, and that has "growing" pains. Ford, Chevy, and Plymouth today, with 1956 equipment aboard, do not qualify as inexpensive cars. At dealer prices they climb well above the $2500 mark, and we have seen them tagged at $3,000 and up!

NOW A CONTEST

American Motors recently outbid Studebaker for the highest priced insurance policy given with the sale of a new car. The buyers of Nash or Hudson cars now have accident policies valued at $25,000.

Now American Motors comes out with a $250,000 contest to find a name which will best describe its single-unit type of car construction. First prize is $25,000. Other prizes include forty cars, one hundred appliances, and one thousand cash prizes. June 1 is the deadline.

Observations

By Bob Walsh

BOOST TO EDUCATION

The Warren and Warren area joint school boards should be very pleased with a recent decision of the Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce. It not only has taken action to see that its members are fully informed on area educational problems, but also has decided to encourage other organizations to do likewise. This is a healthy, forward step, needed in all democratic communities.

It is not enough for a few leaders to meet every month and to arrive at decisions that affect thousands. And it is not informatively adequate to limit the reporting and interpretation of the news to editors and radio commentators.

All of us have blind spots and we can get into channels with large banks on all sides. It is well that the young members of the hustling Jaycees so early are moving to make themselves familiar with the decisions that must be reached very soon by those who plan and operate our schools.

With a new high school in the planning stage, and Warren facing the certainty of an expanding population, now is the time to look into the future and to constructively chart our way. All blind alleys should be eliminated and the application of many interested minds to the diverse problems should do much to assure a democratic approach that will fulfill the needs of all concerned.

THE OBVIOUS

Even the mind in the channel can not miss the fact that we must build a school that will seat our anticipated student population. Some predict that this will be 1500 in the high school by 1960, or shortly thereafter. If this is so and we build for less, our short-sightedness will be inexcusable.

To build rooms that will provide class room seating for the anticipated number of students is basic. Let's go from there. We also must have a variety of facilities that will give our young people an education that will compare with the best and which we as a prosperous area can well afford.

These range from full provision for teaching the courses that will fit them well for college to such vocational facilities as an adequately equipped shop that will prepare young men and women for the jobs available in area industry. That much vocational training is about as minimum as you can get.

We must have recreational facilities for the 1500, and this includes gymnasium and auditorium space to serve that number. And now the mind in the channel should be invited to climb the bank and have a peek at the enlightened world that is to be seen on the broad horizon.

NOT SO OBVIOUS

We understand that some study has been made of neighboring schools. One expects a student population of one thousand and the state has approved an auditorium of 1,100. Little enough allowance for growth, but it is important to note that the state did approve it.

At the same time we are told that our own joint committee now is talking of building an auditorium of one thousand seats to serve an immediate student population of 1200 and a potential of 1500. We must decide if this is wise.

BROADER BASE

We often have heard it said that Warren needs a swimming pool, a public auditorium, and other facilities. With so many basic needs facing us, these do not seem very likely to come our way.

However, a high school can serve far more than the pupils who attend it during the day. It also can be a widely used community center for all to enjoy. It can be utilized for adult education and it can be equipped for community activities.

This does not necessarily mean that you incorporate every dream of the community in the original building, but the plans for the building should take into consideration the future. It should be built in such a way that new facilities can be added or expanded. If planned well now, the problem will be minimized later.

Let us face two problems squarely. Does Warren really need a public auditorium? Does it need a swimming pool? We say it can have both with a single drive and with the full cooperation of the school boards.

If we have a potential school population of 1500, and if a neighboring school obtained permission for an auditorium that would seat a hundred more than its student body, we see no reason why Warren cannot obtain the help of the state for this important asset.

Even though a portion of this will be paid through local taxes, the actual cost for the additional few hundred seats, of which we would be paying only about half, is far short of the price we would have to pay for a public auditorium. The school would have seats for all its students, and the area would have an auditorium that should meet most needs.

ONE FINANCIAL DRIVE

Which means that only one financial drive is needed and that for a swimming pool. Experts tell us that an outside pool is good for only about sixty-five days a year in this climate. An indoor pool can have an open side for warm weather, with a play area bordering it, and can be closed for cold weather. It makes the investment really worth the additional money.

In this case the state would give us no help, but the school should be built so that locker room facilities would be available for the swimmers, and in such a way that the pool could be added if this is not the right time for it.

The time is here for the school. The time for additions may be in the future. But we should have the area needed for expansion, parking, and related facilities. And the actual building should be put together to fit the eventualities, whether they be rooms that can be opened onto the rear of an auditorium to expand its seating capacity, or whether they be plumbing and the arrangement of related rooms to some day serve a swimming pool.

These are just a couple ideas. The wide interest that can result through the action of the Jaycees will turn up others and certainly will improve on any we may have. As people who have a common problem before us we should welcome this growing interest.

OBSERVER PRICES INCREASE APRIL 5

Starting with the issue of April 5, 1956, the price of your Observer will be increased to compensate for the continuous rise of expenses which became exceptionally acute during the past year and already show signs of going up in the early part of 1956.

Paper alone had three increases in 1955, and we have been told it will be fattened again on April 1. We could take one or two, but the third was almost too much, and the one in April forces us to act.

At the same time we have had regular increases in the prices of all supplies. Obviously photography plays a major role in our production. Photography supplies went up twice last year, and one of the increases was twenty-five per cent.

There is no need to itemize our financial problems. Anyone in business or any housewife with a budget to maintain knows the story.

The price of the Observer will be ten cents a copy when paid for by the week or when purchased at the news stand.

The mail price will be $3.50.

We believe the paper is worth the new price. We have attempted to give you a publication of near magazine quality. There are many more pages and features than the price has justified.

Most quality weeklies and semi-weeklies in the state now charge ten cents. We have plans for many improvements that we believe will rate us well above the standard of most weekly publications.

TOGETHER we can do it

Sometimes a task is just too great for one person. Sometimes we need an extra pair of hands to swing the job—quickly, easily, effectively.

This is just another way of saying "People, working together, can do anything" . . . And, that is the working creed of Nationwide Insurance.

People want the protection of insurance. They want the strongest and broadest protection they can get, at the most reasonable price possible. Nationwide Insurance is working with people to help them achieve just that. Are we succeeding? . . . Over 2,000,000 Nationwide Insurance owners attest "Yes!"

It will pay you to investigate Nationwide Insurance. Call, or write . . .

MONEY NOT WORKING IS NOT MONEY AT ALL

"Money is the medium of exchange." Therefore, if hoarded under a mattress or in a bureau drawer, it is not only in danger of loss from fire or theft, but it is of no value as a medium of exchange. But if left in a bank like the Warren National Bank, your money pays you interest. Its safety is guaranteed up to $10,000 by the strongest of all agencies, "The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation." It goes to work financing factories, schools, roads, and industrial needs.

So keep your money in the Warren National Bank. Here it is safe and produces for you directly in the form of interest, indirectly in production.
